BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with ; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held ; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms ; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,

I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly : had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia ; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. TO the jail for Alexandria county, as a runaway, on 21st inst. a negro man, who calls himself HENRY WILLIAMSON, alias JACOB ROBINSON. The said negro is about 25 years of age, and about 5 feet six inches high, of a yellow complexion; he had on a blue cotton jacket, and linen trowsers. When committed, he said he was the property of Mr. Elliot, of Baltimore, but now says he is the property of a Mr. Tyson, of the same place, and that he will be entitled to his freedom in a short time.

The owner is requested to come forward and prove property, pay charges and take him away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs.

ANDW ROUNSAVELL.

100 Dollars Reward.

IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

The above reward will be cheerfully paid on conviction of the perpetrators of this flagrant outrage upon the rights of a freeborn citizen of the United States.

Any warrants forwarded to the subscriber, will be located on such land as he may suppose most likely to please his employers. CADWALLADER WALLACE.
Chillicothe, (Ohio) April 15 19t*

For Sale or Lease,

THE following tracts of land in Charles county, Maryland : one lying on the Potomac, at the mouth of Pomonkey creek, containing three hundred and forty acres, about 16 miles from Alexandria, the larger portion level land, of a stiff soil, well adapted to the cultivation of corn, wheat and tobacco, and equal in fertility to any in the neighborhood. On this farm is one of the most elegant sites for building of all those fine heights which border the Potomac, commanding the most extensive view of the adjacent country, both in Virginia and Maryland, for more than twenty miles up and down the river : located in a genteel neighborhood, it would make an agreeable residence, and from its proximity to market, with the advantage of the best navigation, an extremely profitable farm.—The tenant's houses would accommodate the negroes for its cultivation.

A Tract, about one mile back from the former, containing 334 acres, a large portion in wood, white and red oak, and some chesnut ; the remainder a tenement in tolerable repair, the whole a high stiff soil, similar to the one above mentioned.

A Tract, lying at the mouth of Mattawoman Creek, about 25 miles from Alexandria, the whole first rate flat river land, now completely enclosed.—On this tract is a noted fishery, called Rum Point, at which there has been cleared upwards of two thousand dollars per annum, and where independent of the fish sold on the shore, there might be put up from one to two thousand barrels every season ; besides the profits of the fishery, the advantage of manuring the farm with the offal of the shore, the whole, with a small portion of industry, might be made to produce ten barrels of corn per acre. On the shore, are a dwelling house, houses for holding salt, and curing any quantity of fish, and for the accommodation of hands.

A Tract, lying about 1½ miles from the last mentioned, containing 236 acres, more than 200 of which are in wood, and would cut from 25 to 30 cords per acre, within one mile of the river, where wood has rarely sold for less than five dollars per cord. It will be divided into 50 or 25 acre lots, to suit purchasers.—If preferred, the wood will be sold standing, for so much per acre.

If not disposed of, previous to the first day of Sept. next, the above mentioned arable lands, will be leased out, upon advantageous terms, for five or seven years, at the option of the lessees.

Application to be made to the subscriber, residing near the head of Mattawoman Creek, Charles county, Maryland.

New-York, July 26.

IMPORTANT FROM CADIZ.

We have seen a letter from Cadiz of the 19th of June. It is from a Spanish officer in the army, to his relation in this city.—This letter states a report there that an expedition of 20,000 men were going to Buenos Ayres but that only 13 or 14,000 were visible. He observes that the reports about the Floridas are various—one is, that there will be a war with America. The writer, the day before June 18th dined in company with his excellency, where were English, French and Dutch naval and military officers. There was much talk, but little understood. The writer observes, that he had gathered enough to convince him that things were not going on well; and hat the departure of Don Onis from the U. States has some meaning in it.

By the Belvidere, from Havre, we have received Paris papers of the 10th ult.

The French funds on the 1oth June, were 5 per cents. 68f. 3oc. ; bank shares, 1515.

Gen. Vandame, who went out in the Comet, has been put under arrest at Havre ; but the municipal authorities have allowed him the use of the city for his prison, until the determination of the government should be known

An officer on board the U. S. ship Hornet, writes thus to Lieut. WARD, at Boston.

"Cadiz, June 6, 1819.

Here we are and probably shall remain for five or six weeks.—We yesterday received letters from captain Reid, at Madrid, and on the 28th ult. the treaty was not ratified—some are doubtful whether it will be or not."

Baltimore, July 27.

FIRE.

We have again to notice the occurrence of another fire, which took place in a wire work factory in an alley in the rear of Light street, below Bank street. Owing to the wetness of the evening and the vigilance of the fire companies, the progress of the flames was arrested without doing further damage than to the house where it originated.

CENTRAL BANK AT CHERRY VALLEY.

A lengthy report or address to the public, is made by the Directors of this Bank, (thirteen in number) the most interesting part of which is, that "the specie now on hand, and other property convertible in specie within sixty days, amount to a sum sufficient to pay more than one dollar and fifty cents on every dollar of the bills of the Central Bank now in circulation."

The Directors undersigned also "severally pledge their honor, and admit themselves to be severally, legally personally bound in their individual capacities, for the redemption of the notes of the Central Bank in circulation."

FROM THE AMERICAN VOLUNTEER.

Carlisle, July 22.

We are authorised to state, that the Board of Directors of the "Pennsylvania Agricultural and Manufacturing Bank" have suspended the further operations of the institution, so far as respects specie payments. They assure the public that funds will be provided in a reasonable time to redeem all the paper, and to discharge all the debts due by the Bank.

DYSENTERY COMPLAINTS.

As the season of the year has returned in which Diarrhœas and dysentery complaints are more prevalent than at some other seasons of the year, permit me, Sir, to state, for the benefit of my fellow citizens, that by upwards of twenty-seven years experience I have found, that whenever my bowels were effected by any of these disorders, RICE has been a sovereign remedy, and always relieved me in a few hours ; and it has always been attended with the same good effect when complaints of that nature have attacked any of my children or family. I have frequently recommended it to others who have been benefitted thereby. At this season of the year, I would recommend it to be given to children as a meal at least two or three times a week—let your rice be sufficiently cooked, either with milk or otherwise, so that it is made palatable—if some prefer it in mutton soup, they will find it beneficial, or in any other way.

JOHN FIRTH.

Gloucester Co. N. J. June 24, 1819.

Among the projects furnished in the last number of the American Farmer, an agricultural work, published at Baltimore, are two of great novelty, and we doubt not of utility: one is a long essay to shew the uncommon advantage that would result in procuring a breed of the Bactrian Camels from Central Asia, for various uses; but particularly for transporting the Mail, on distant and mountainous routs, which the writer avers could be performed at the extraordinary rate of 100 miles in 24 hours, and go across to the Pacific Ocean and back in sixty days from Washington. The other is a recommendation to planters, to commense the cultivation of poppies, for the manufacture of opium, which is said to be perfectly practicable, and might form a most lucrative source of wealth, to those who would engage in it. We merely mention these hints from memory, (not having the sheet before us) for the purpose of contributing our best wishes towards a more general attention to matters of national concern ; and that men of money and leisure may be induced to make the experiment.

New-York, July 24.

Extract of a letter from an English house in France, to his correspondent in this city.

"Bordeaux, May 19.

We have paid 2 per cent. for insurance. It is a high premium, but against all risks, (our policies being against sea risks only,) and we have thought prudent to do it, because they talk in England of armaments, the object of which is not known, and the patriot privateers become every day more and more audacious.

The brig Mary, James, of this port, is lost on the coast of St. Domingo ; all the crew are lost by shipwreck and yellow fever, except capt. James, who has arrived in the ship Greyhound. The mate of the Mary died the day before he sailed. [Ibid.

It has been stated that Puerrydon had resigned the office of Director of the government of Buenos Ayres. But a postscript to a letter from Rio Janeiro, of the 25th May, the latest date received, says "Puerrydon is still Director, and it is said has no intention of resigning." [Ibid.

COMMUNICATED.—JOSEPH LANCASTER.

"The long summer pilgrimage of this good patriarchal Briton, (says a northern corresponndent) lies through the states of New York, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and the District of Maine. where he is lecturing to numerous and enlightened auditories furnished with the largest religious and other public buildings for their reception."

"The magic of so distinguished a name and cause, is here found to be irresistible. In whatsoever point of view or section of the earth he is contemplated, whether at home or abroad, in royal halls, or hovels of the poor, he is seen revolving a generous auspicious luminary of instruction, with nothing cold, opake, or selfish about it, low self interest and beloved self are lost in the march of his all pervading but ill-requited philanthropy."

"The evil eye of hungry criticism perhaps revels in his few defective exteriors, but were it capable for a moment of looking into the arcana of his illustrious deeds and achievements, it might look and be blasted with excess of brightness. For, as the founder of a great system, not to be confined to the age or nation which produced it, because possessing machinery planted in heaven, and destined to move the earth, he has done infinitely more than Archimedes did, or oratory can tell of, or scribes chronicle ; but posterity, in ranking him with its Howards' and Washingtons', shall read, and at one day give utterance to his eloquent, though at present unspeakable story."

"Even the well known wit of his repartees has always been directed and tended to moral good, fearless of any consequences A memorable instance of it occurred at Dublin Castle, on his first visit to his Grace the Duke of Bedford, while viceroy of Ireland. Seated at table, over wine after dinner, by the side of a young beauteous bare bosomed Patrician, who thus merrily toasted him, "Well, Friend Lancaster, here's to thy broad brim'd hat ! !"—(taking his glass, rejoined he) I am not accustomed to such ceremonies, but as thou dost challenge me to return the compliment, "Lady Mary, here's to thy absent handkerchief;" on which she retired covered with blushes and the laugh against her."

From the Binghampton Phœnix, July 15.

A PRINTER'S LAST WORDS.

The present number completes the 5th volume of this paper, and we announce to our patrons and the public that this is the last number which will be published, with mingled emotions of pleasure and pain ; pleasure, at the generous support we have received, and pain, at the train of unfortunate circumstances which have produced this result. To detail these circumstances would be irksome to ourselves and uninteresting to the public. It must suffice, that circumstances, beyond our control, and which could not have been foreseen nor prevented, have produced the determination to close the establishment of the Phœnix forever. It only remains that, to the public, and to those of our patrons who have steadily adhered to and supported us n every vicissitude, we proffer our cordial thanks ; towards those who, from whatever motives, have withdrawn their support, we feel no resentment. The petty vexations incident to an establishment of this kind ; the resentments that must unavoidably be generated in a course of editorial labors, end with the establisement ; they are remembered no more ; the veil of oblivion covers them. We forgive, too, the sneer of malice, the scoff of hatred, and envy's triumphant smile at our downfall. A new paper is established in the village, and we do not wish to burden the public with the support of two Newspapers, when one can answer every beneficial and profitable purpose. From our brother editors, whose eyes have rested for a moment on the columns of the Phœnix, we should betray a want of feeling, if we parted without a tear. Here is my hand ; for myself, I know not whither wayward fortune may lead me—but for you, God speed you on your course. To the public at large, as editor of the Phœnix, I bid a long farewell. With my foes in this place and its vicinity, if any I have, I leave "my peace ;" with my friends "my love." A. M. HOWARD.

CARICATURES.

"To shoot the follies, living as they rise."

The satirist lashes the follies of men.—Juvenal chastises their vices with scorpions ; but for minor peccadilloes of fashionable folly, satire has in her armory some lighter and more playful weapons.

Of all these fashionable follies, excesses in dress are the most common, as well as ridiculous. Every giddy girl, whose head turns upon ribbands and laces ; every idle youth who has no taste for rational amusement, becomes a votary of dress. No matter how ridiculous the fashion may be, it is followed. No matter how inconvenient in restraining the easy play of the muscles; nay, however calculated to injure the organs of life, the reigning fashion finds persons enough to imitate it. The real uses of clothing are forgotten. It is not to serve the purposes of the fig-leaf of Eve ; nor to cover our bodies from the weather, that we wear our clothes. It is not to set off in the most becoming manner the happy forms which nature has given to some of us ; but it is to distort our shapes, and reduce us to the appearance of monkies, that many of our dresses are admirably calculated. The more variable the fashion, the better for these who have nothing else to employ them. The more eccentric, even to the extent of being ridiculous, the more agreeable to those who have no other way to distinguish themselves than by the cut of their coat or of their pantaloons.

The reigning buck of the present day is a Dandy.—We are not sufficiently acquainted with this species, by our own observation. No perfect specimens have appeared among us ; though now and then we have seen some strange bucks, who have approached in a few particulars the character of the monster. Their pantaloons are not so full, nor their waists so narrow, as to entitle them to the name of a full grown Dandy. They seem to be in the fashionable world, what some politicians are said to be, neither, fish, flesh, nor fowl. London is the true region of the species. Individuals are sometimes met with in New-York and Philadelphia; in Richmond, never in perfection.

What we know of a Dandy, is mostly by description. He may be defined to be a fashionable sort of monkey, whose waist is drawn into the span of a hand by the aid of corsets ; and whose pantaloons are made of two sack bags sewed together at the hip. Put on his head a hat of the shape of a truncated sugar loaf turned bottom upwards, give him a pair of false hips, and a pair of false calves, and the monster is complete. Certainly no sight is more ridiculous than this ; and yet men are found ridiculous enough to degrade themselves in this manner. The fashion, however, cannot last. A new change of dress would banish the whole species. But satire is not wanting to accelerate their extinction.—They have been lashed in paragraphs, lampooned in verse, ridiculed on the stage, and caricatured in print shops. A few caricatures of this description have been handed to us, and though they have not much merit, yet a brief description of them may serve to occupy a leisure moment of these hard times.

No. 1.—The Affrighted Farmers.—A male and female dandy (for the females too have embraced the wasp waist and the inverted bonnet) are represented arm in arm, in the streets, passing in review before two countrymen. You may know the Hero by his conical hat ; the hair shooting beneath it in shocks, the dapper waist, the coat tapering almost to a point behind, the fall-flowing ribbed nose pantaloons and high heeled shoes. His companion has also a waist which you may almost grasp with your hand ; and her bonnet resembles a flat gourd standing on the top of the head. At this strange spectacle, one of the farmers exclaims, "O! O! O! Jamy, what's that!" His friend replies, "Hah! hah! don't you be frightened ; 'tis only a Dandy!" The lady, somewhat chagrined, exclaims in the fashionable cant, "La, those vulgar creatures shock one so, you've no idea!" To which Mr. Dandy replies, in his equally fashionable cant, "Yes, my dear, they're quite troublesome, 'pon honor."

No. 2—Dandies preparing for a ball—Represents two Dandies of the male sex dressing—both of them have on false calves but their shirts and drawers are tattered and torn in every direction. One of them is seated on a bedstead, grasping the bedpost, while his servant behind him, with his foot against the dandy's back, is girting him up as tight as his strength can draw him. A boy comes in with the tailor's bill for a pair of hips, calves, &c. at which one of the bucks flies into a passion, and commands him to "tell Mr. Snip to pay his own debts, and not trouble himself about other peoples."

No. 3—The Dandy in a rage—Three of the species are in a barber's shop in various ludicrous attitudes—One of them, while reading a newspaper, meets with a description of the dandies so ludicrous that he flies into a rage, tears the paper to pieces, and threatens the editor and author of "these scurrilous, calumnious, diabolical host of falsehoods,"—while the astonished shaver stands behind him with the uplifted razor just fresh from his chin.

No. 4—The Dandy in a hobble—He has picked a gentleman's pocket of his pocket book, who seizes him round his waist, as small as if it were a wine glass; and charges him with the theft.—The affrighted puppy, caught in the very fact, produces the pocket-book, declaring he did not pick the pocket intentionally, "I am not the gentleman you take me to be, sir."—His squint-eyed friend, who stands by, certifies to his honest character, "and therefore I cannot suppose him to be in earnest in what he did, Sir." In the rear is the show-window of Peter Snigglefritz, Hair-dresser, from London, with the customary labels upon the window of "Genuine Cologne Water," "Russian belts and corsets," "Patent cravat stiffeners," "Russian oil for the growth of hair," &c. &c.

Besides these and other Dandy carricatures, there is a touch at the lately invented Velocipede, entitled "A match between a race-horse and a hobby-horse."—The rider of the Velocipede has completely the start of the horse-racer, and is about to win the course. Fire seems to fly under the wheels of the flying machine ; while the poor racer in vain puts whip and spur to his flagging steed. The spectators appear with various ludicrous gestures. A soup-meagre Monsieur exclaims, "I tink dat de Gentlemen vill vin de stake vid his machine." "I tink de vill (re-echoes a broad figure to the right,) and I tink be can cook de steak wid it too ; and den I tink I can eat de steak, if I don't mistake." Another pair, of whom one is a Dandy, addresses himself to a countrified ill-looking figure, "You are a very impertinent blunt fellow, I think." "That's my name, sir, Jack Blunt ; come I'll bet you five dollars, the cart will beat the horse."

VIVE LA BAGATELLE.

AFFAIRS OF SWEDEN.

Letter from Gustavus the fourth, ex-king of Sweden.

We have had the honor of receiving the following communication from his majesty the late king of Sweden, and we submit it to the public according to his request. It is written in English, and exactly in the form we now present it. The private, and family, circumstances to which it relates, we think it becoming in us to leave without comment. It is well known that the son of Gustavus IV. has refused to make a formal abdication of all his future claims to the hereditary throne of his family. From what specific motives he has acted, we know not : but we think an important light is thrown upon them in the following document from the pen of the king : We refer particularly, to the third condition imposed upon the deceased queen of Sweden, when confiding to her care the education of her children.

We shall only further observe, that his majesty has relinquished his former title of count Gottorp, and now styles himself, colonel Gustafsson, which signature is annexed to the following statement.

THE LETTER.

"Many journals having inserted articles concerning prince Gustavus, son of Gustavus Adolphus the IV. (Gustafsson) former king of Sweden, it is necessary to explain what has been said respecting this young prince, and the public ought no longer to be ignorant of all the unlawful and unjustifiable transactions of the last three years.

"It is time to make known that secret intrigues were employed to separate the prince from his father, to whom he owes not only the attachment and respect that nature inspires us with for our parents, who had made over to him a great part of the considerable property devolved on him from his mother of blessed memory, the defunct queen of Sweden, and the remainder of which he divided among his other children.

"Prince Gustavus's father, who in the year 1812, was separated from his queen, his consort, gave her, as the mother of his children, the most unequivocal proof of his confidence, by trusting to her majesty, not only the education of the princess, but that of prince Gustavus also. However, under three conditions, viz.—1st, that their education should be conformable to the religion in which they were born. 2d, to the rank they hold in the world ; and 3d, to the duties they may one day be called upon to fulfil.

"The queen afterwards received a new mark of confidence from her former consort, by his giving up to her the administration of the above-mentioned inheritance, relinquished in favor of his children, which was paid by the Swedish government, and placed at the disposal of her majesty.

"But from that moment she seemed resolved to act absolutely contrary to the tenor of the conditions prescribed to her, exactly in the same manner as her son, who agreeable to such, was, on his coming of age, (i. e. at 17,) to present himself to his father, and concert with him as to his future destiny, but refused so doing, at the time, declaring himself incapable ; and rejected the importunities of his father, his friend, and benefactor. Instigated by his royal mother, he persisted in disobeying the repeated orders of his sire, alledging as a reason, that he had promised his mother upon his honor, not to leave her until he attained his 21st year. A singular example of a young prince, who, refusing his majority, acts with the disobedience that a son might more readily do if he were of age. It would be revolting and contrary to nature, to charge this once so virtuous and so obedient a son entirely with such an offence ; it would be even unjust to say, before it would be evidently proved, that the queen mother of this prince, had acted only from herself ; yet, it must be known, that she bestowed her confidence, & still more, committed the charge and education of her son, with which she alone was entrusted, into the hands of a Calvinist, of a republican and stranger ; who, moreover, possesses no acknowledged title that could distinguish or recommend him in any way for the situation of prince Gustavus's governor.

"Let nobody alledge the name of the famous Latharpe on the side of that of the emperor Alexander, to prove a paradox ; for Latharpe was but Alexander's teacher, and not his governor. Let no one abuse any more the name of the emperor Alexander, by representing it in family dissentions, as it cannot appear consonant with the dignity that characterises a great sovereign.

"It has been said in Gazettes lately, that the emperor of Russia had appointed prince Gustavus governor of one of his provinces ; at another time, that he was going to England, with the emperor's permission, to finish his studies, and to be allowed by him 2000l. sterling for the expences of his removal, which would indicate that the prince had not a sufficiency to provide for it himself.

"Let us, therefore, put a stop to so many weakly grounded novelties, and endeavour at least, to develope the truth, and not believe it possible that the Emperor Alexander would carry dissimulation so far as not to give any advice at all to prince Gustavus's father, of his good intentions towards his son, while he is in painful anxiety for the termination of the same son's disobedience."

The above article is sent to the editor of the Courier with the request that he will insert it in his Journal.

(Signed) G. A. GUSTAFSSON.

MARY.—A SCOTTISH SONG.

Air—Loch Erroch Side.

Oh, Mary, when the wild wind blows,
And blasts the beauties of the rose,
Thy coming fate to me it shows,
And I could weep for Mary.

Oft has the blossom decked the tree,
Since first thy glancin' tell-tale e'e
Confess'd a wee bit love for me,
And I was smit wi' Mary.

Oh, Mary, I hae lov'd thee lang:
Thou'rt ay the burthen o' my sang,
And day or night, where'er I gang,
I think on nought but Mary.

When sleep seals up my wearied e'e,
In dreams thy angel form I see,
And in fond raptures say to thee,
Oh, dinna leave me, Mary.

Oh, Mary, when the warld's unkind,
And poverty throws me behind,
I ay can sooth my drooping mind,
Wi' thoughts o' thee my Mary.

For were I sick, and like to die, (dee)
Thy witching smile would comfort gie,
Then come what will, my wish shall be,
For happiness to Mary.

Lands for Sale.

BY VIRTUE of a power of attorney from William S. Courts to the subscriber, will be sold at public sale.

On WEDNESDAY, the 18th AUGUST, in Port Tobacco, that valuable tract of land whereon John H. Barnes at present resides called lying and being in Charles county Maryland, containing between three and four hundred acres. This land is handsomely situated, lying immediately on Matawoman Creek, at least one third of which is in wood, with a sufficient quantity of marsh land for grazing—that part of the land which is in cultivation is well adapted to the growth of corn, wheat and tobacco, and with proper care would be equal, if not superior to any land in that neighborhood. ALSO,

Whitland and Cole,

At the same time and place, will be offered for sale the plantation at present in the occupancy of Francis & Sam'l Wheeler, lying about one mile from the above place, containing about four hundred acres. As it is presumed that persons wishing to purchase will first view the premises, it is thought unnecessary to give a more particular description thereof. The terms of sale will be as follows: viz. possession given on the first day of January next, at which time one third of the purchase money will be required, the remaining two thirds at one and two years the purchaser giving bond with approved security with interest.—Upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a sufficient deed will be executed to the purchaser.

Sale of Valuable Land.

BY virtue of a deed of trust, the subscriber will offer at public sale, at Mr. Hardy's tavern, Piscataway, on Thursday, 5th August, next, several tracts or parcels of land, on Mattawoman Run, about three miles from Piscataway, lying partly in Prince George's county, and partly in Charles county, called and known by the names of Strife, Bonton enlarged, Friendship & Smallwood's meadows. Thompson's Hoop Thickets, and four acres of land adjoining, containing in the whole 420 acres, 1 rood, 18 perch. more or less; which said lands were heretofore conveyed by Thomas Mundell, esq. trustee for the sale of the real estate of N. Blacklock, late of Charles co. deceased, to N. F. Blacklock, late of Alexandria, and by him to the subscriber.

These lands have been, I am told, considerably improved lately by the use of clover and plaster: their susceptibility of still further improvement by these easy means, and their nearness to the Potomac, render them certainly very desirable.

Terms of sale—two thousand dollars to be paid on the day of sale, and the balance on the 1st day of January, 1820, when possession will be given. Upon the payment of the whole of the purchase money, the subscriber will execute a good and sufficient deed, conveying to the purchaser all the right and title of the late N. F. Blacklock, subject to the widow's dower.

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very tertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25
